About Iceland

Iceland is one of the safest places to visit and ideal for families and couples who are seeking for freedom and space.

It takes only less than 3 hours to fly to Iceland from London and 5 hours from New York, so if you are thinking of go somewhere for a long and relaxing weekend - why not try something different and exceptional?

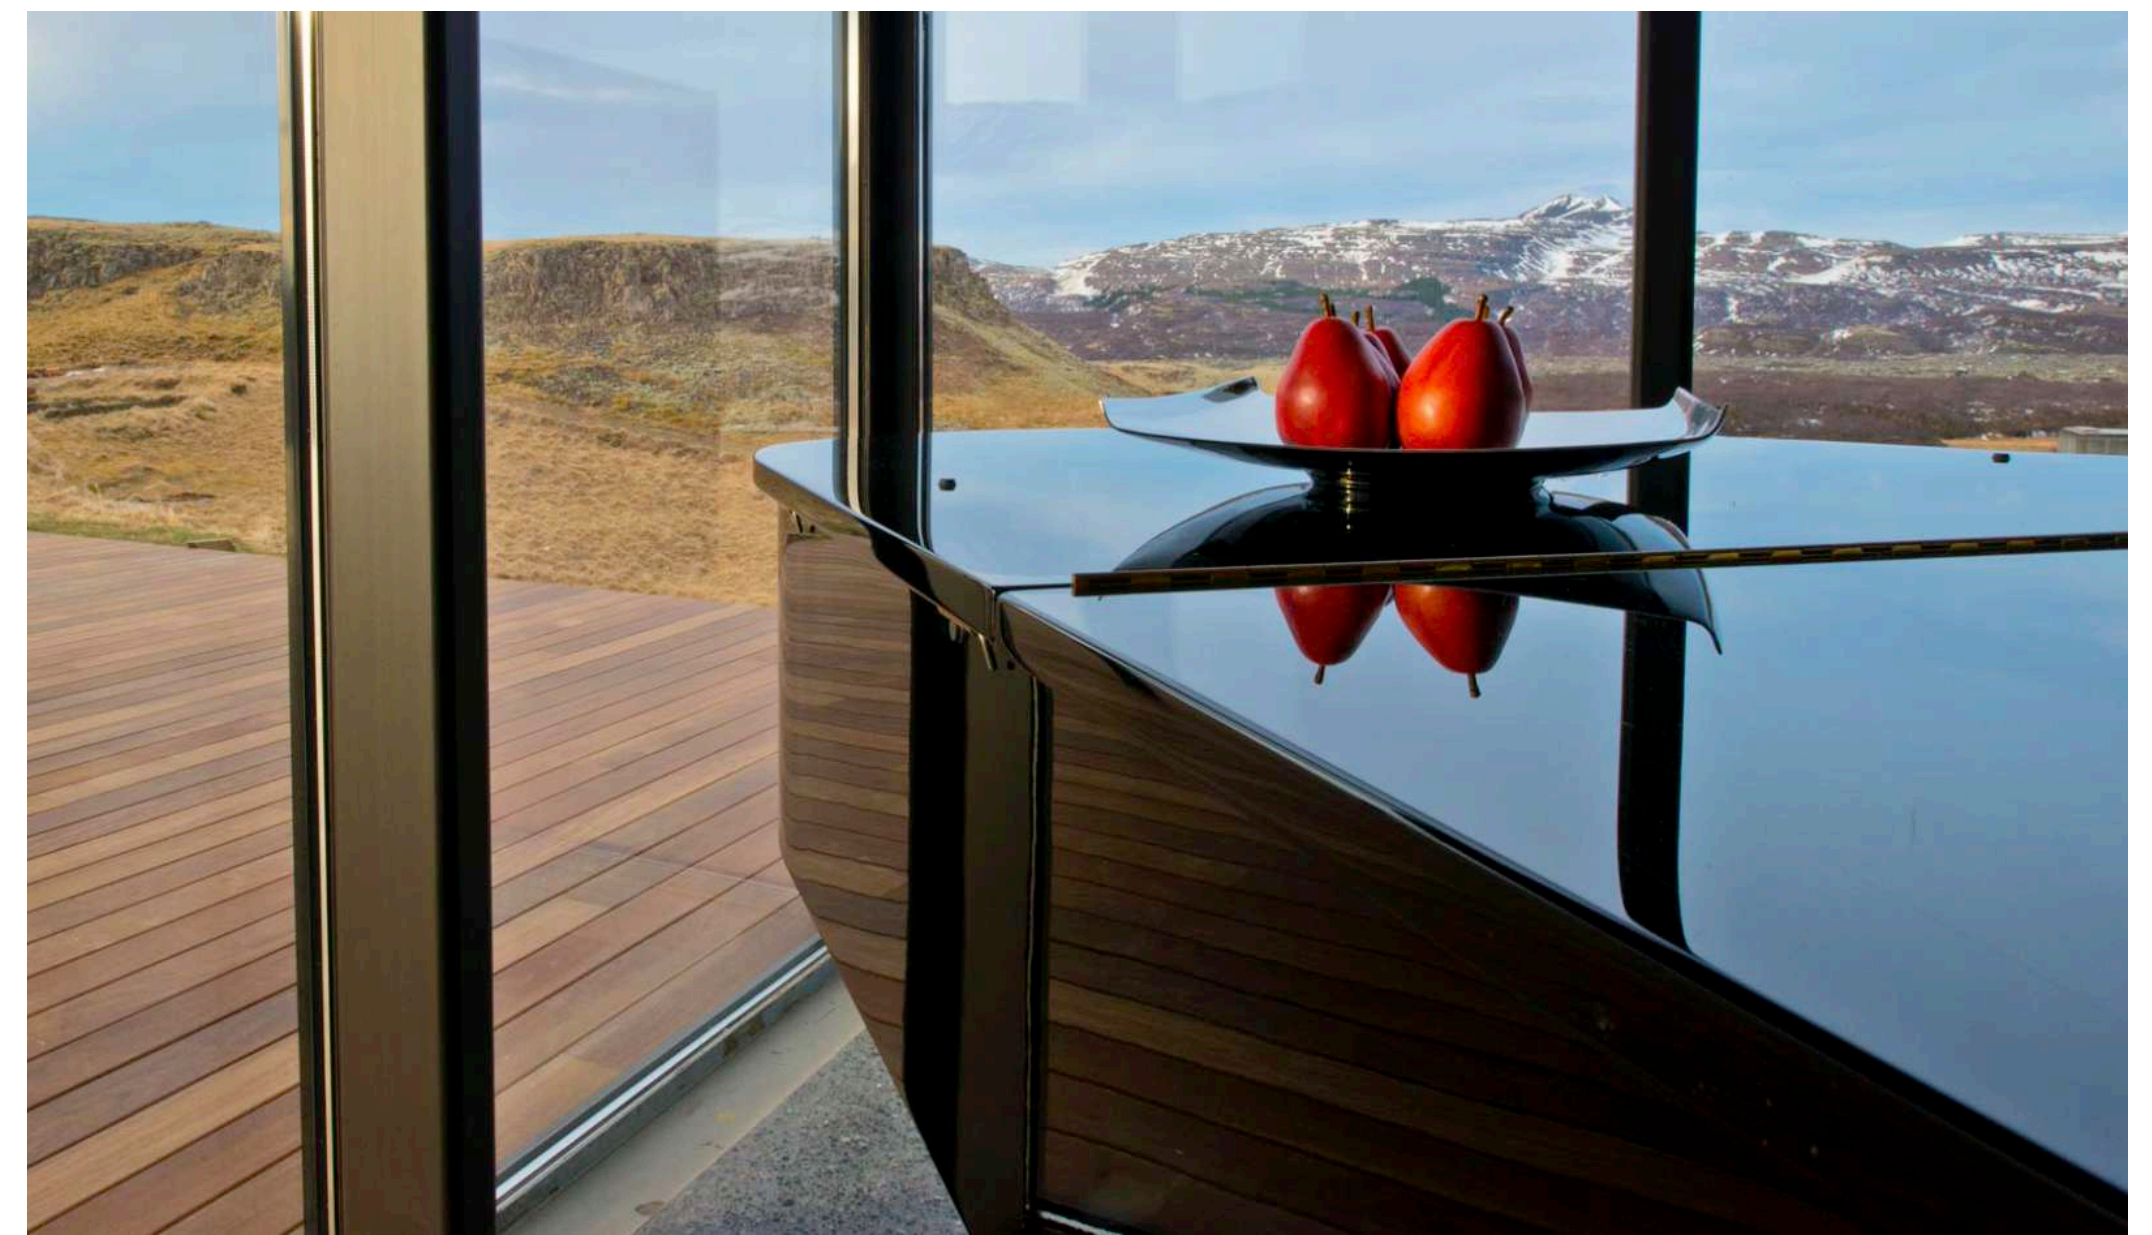

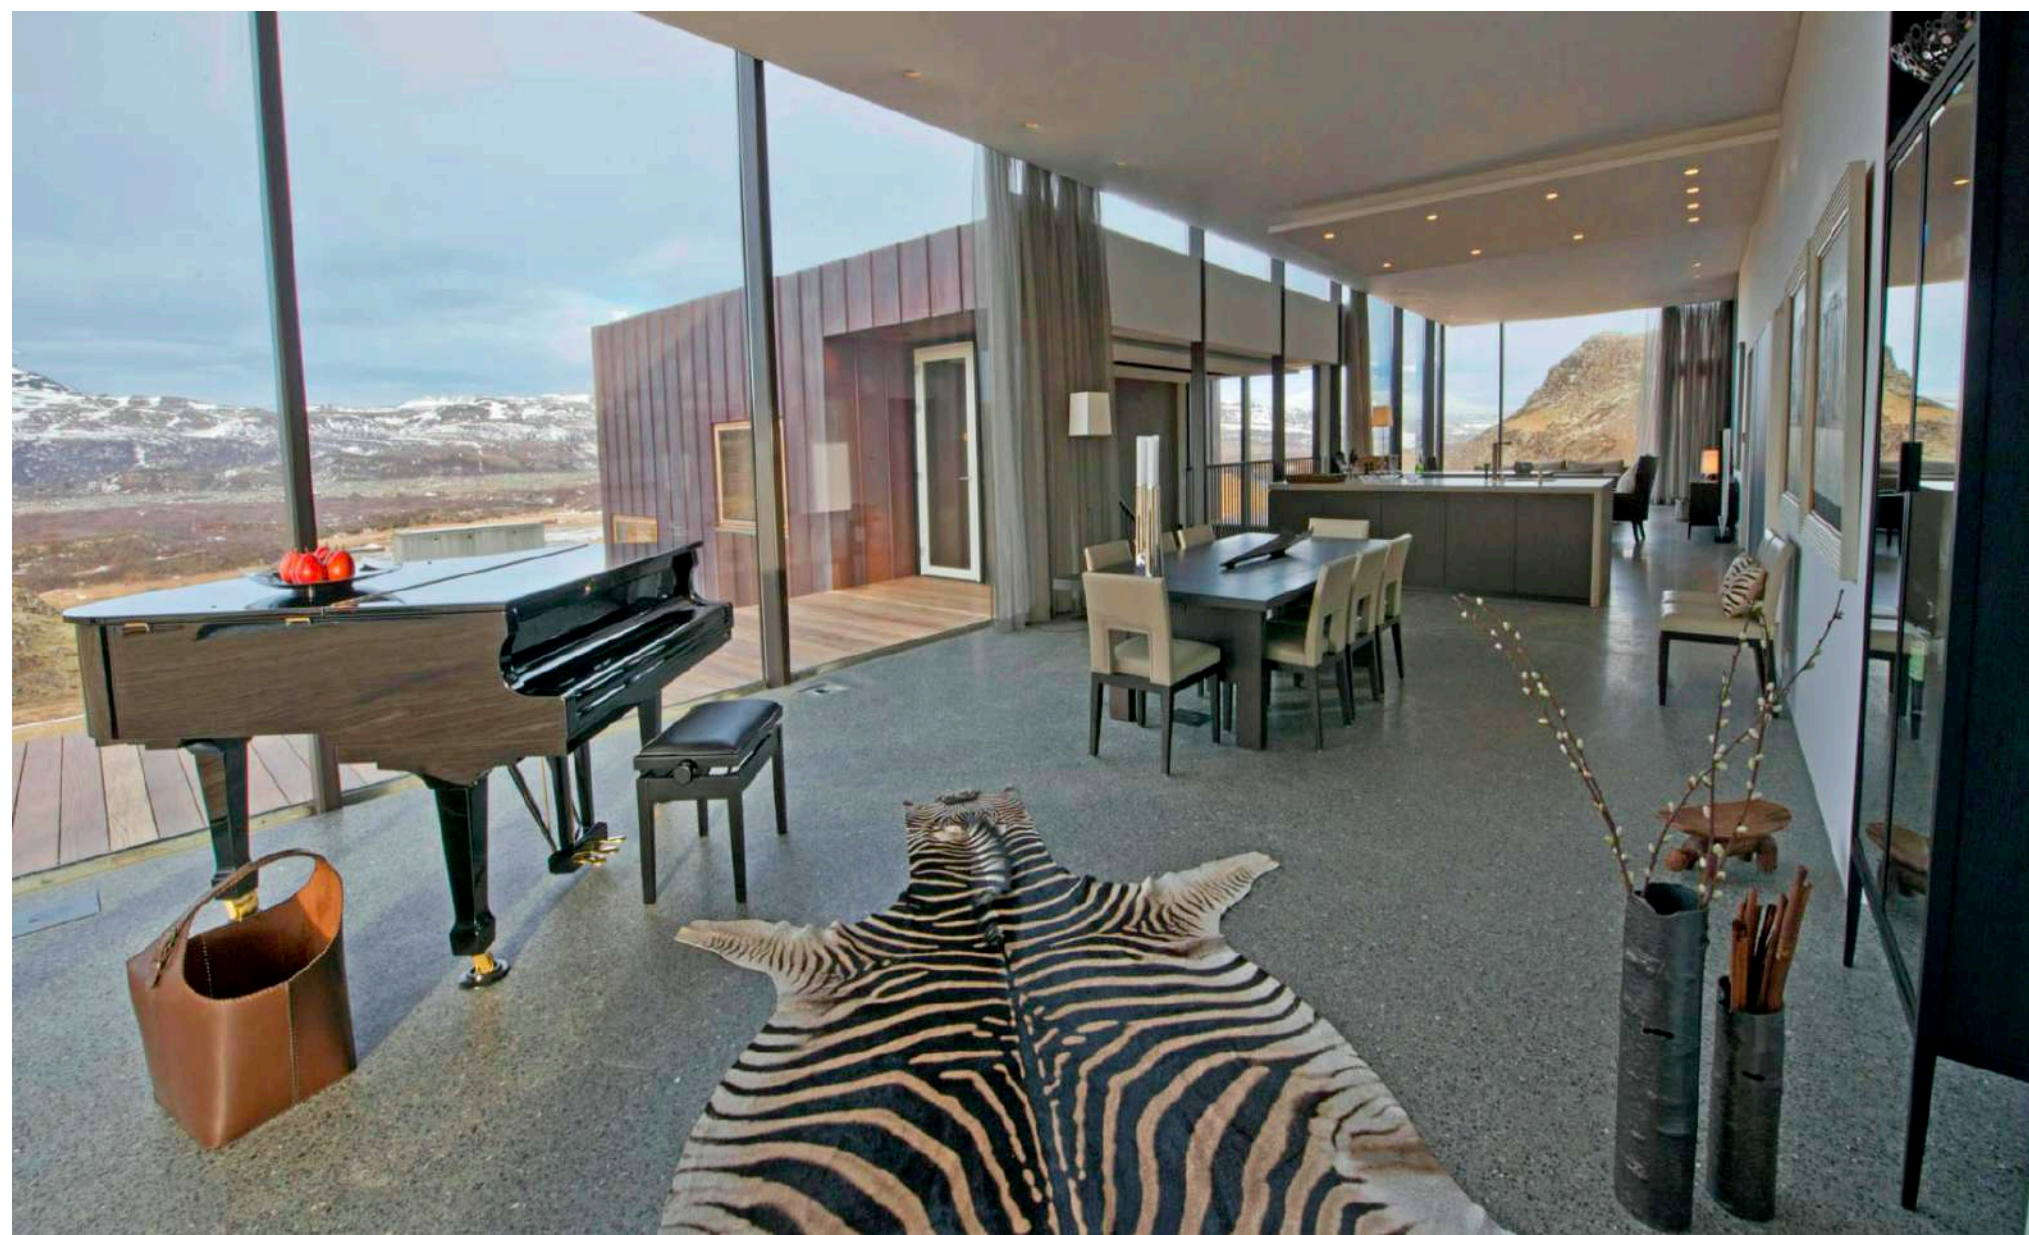

There's never a dull day in Iceland in winter even though the days are dark. The country literally becomes a magical winter kingdom ready for you to explore.

A true natural pearl...

The ultimate Icelandic take on modernist luxury, Fish Creek, set on 200 hectares of unspoiled countryside surrounded by mountains and spectacular scenery, is located in Borgarfjörður in west Iceland, one and a half hours drive from Reykjavik and 20 minutes from Borgarnes village.

The property is commonly referred to as “a natural pearl”. Iceland’s famous Norðurá salmon river, with its two impressive waterfalls Glanni and Laxfoss, is within easy walking distance from the villa and the views of Baula Mountain, the iconic landmark of west Iceland, picturesque craters and colorful lava fields are unsurpassed from Fish Creek.
